INTRODUCTION

The Premier's Council on the Status of Disabled Persons is pleased to present this 21st edition of the Directory of Services Offered to Persons with Disabilities in New Brunswick, which incorporates new services, as well as changes that have taken place in the programs and services previously listed that have been brought to our attention during the past year.

If you find errors in any of the listings, or if you are aware of other services in your area that could possibly be included in the Directory, please let us know.

Our intentions are to provide a descriptive list of services and programs offered by non-profit organizations or government to the people of the province with disabilities. The Council is not responsible for the actual delivery of these services, however; and it is not our goal to imply an evaluation or judgement of the degree of professionalism of the services listed.

The previous editions of our Directory have proven to be very useful in the past and we hope that this new version will be of assistance to you.

For monthly updates, contact the office or check the website.

Housing and Income Support

The Housing and Income Support Branch of Family and Community Services offers a number of financial programs. Its responsibility includes all income programs including Social Assistance, Disability Income programs, and financial assistance for day cares. Some services are open to all clients of the Department while some are only available to clients with disabilities. Clients must apply or ask for each service. Applicants should request refusals to be put in writing so they can appeal later if necessary.

Housing : Family and Community Services administers a number of housing programs that are jointly funded with the Federal government, as well as others that are 100% provincially funded. It should be noted that these housing programs might be altered from time to time to meet changing needs and circumstances. It is best to contact the appropriate regional housing office (see page 10) for information regarding the full particulars of these programs.

Community Involvement Program : To improve the quality of life for current public housing residents and their neighbours in and around the public family housing communities. The program uses a community development approach, helping the residents to initiate collective action in order to change their environment to better meet their material, social and psychological needs.

Home Orientation and Management Program : To give social housing tenants the opportunity to augment their basic life skills at a series of workshops. The objective is to help participants make the move from their former accommodation to their new home :

- to provide information on home maintenance, budgeting, and resources available to meet their shelter related needs;
- to promote self-confidence and a sense of pride;
- to provide advice to participants who move out of a social housing unit into the private market;

Training sessions and individual counselling are free to all social housing participants.

Emergency Repair Program : To assist low-income homeowner households requiring urgent repair to render the unit fit for continued safe habitation. This assistance is in the form of a non-repayable loan.

Federal/Provincial Repair Program : This program is offered by the Family and Community Services and provides four types of financial assistance :

1. Modifications to low income homeowner and rental units to improve the accessibility of the dwelling for occupants with disabilities.
2. Adaptations for low-income seniors who have difficulty with daily living activities in the home.
3. Provides assistance for limited modifications to eligible households to accommodate an aging parent.
4. Low-income homeowners occupying existing substandard housing to repair, rehabilitate, or improve their dwellings to a minimum level of health and safety.

To qualify : Households whose income is below the established "housing income limits" which vary by household size and by geographical areas within the province.

Other conditions:

- Modifications required for people with disabilities must be housing related and/or provide access to permanently installed basic facilities within the dwelling; or
- Adaptations for seniors must facilitate and prolong independent living (i.e. using the kitchen and getting around hallways); or
- Own the home and live in it; and
- Requires major repairs or lacks basic facilities in one or more of the following areas : structural; electrical; plumbing; heating; fire safety; or serious cases of overcrowding.

Program Details :

- For homeowners in need of major repairs and or disabled accessible modifications assistance is in the form of a loan, a portion of which may not have to be repaid; this portion is called forgivable. The maximum forgivable loan per housing unit is $10,000 for regular repairs and $10,000 for disabled accessible items. The amount is at the provincial borrowing interest rate and can be repaid over a period of up to 15 years.
- Homeowner households may be eligible for a forgivable loan for both disabled accessible modifications and other major repair items (i.e. structural, electrical) to a maximum of $20,000.
- Seniors are eligible for a forgivable loan for minor adaptations to facilitate independent living to a maximum of $3,500.
- Landlords are eligible for a forgivable loan for disabled modifications to a maximum of $10,000.

Home Completion Loan Program : To offer financial assistance to low and modest income households to complete their partially constructed homes. Occupants must own and occupy, or intend to occupy, a partially completed house and have been a resident of New Brunswick for at least one year. The assistance comes in the form of a repayable loan sufficient to complete the home, to a maximum allowable amount of $30,000.

Home Ownership Program : To provide financial assistance to low and modest income families to help them buy or build a modest first home. Applicants must meet the following requirement: be a first-time home owner or be living in a substandard housing unit; be a resident of New Brunswick and have been living here for at least one year; have a good credit rating and meet all financial institution lending requirements for obtaining a first mortgage; and have a 5% down payment if purchasing an existing home. If purchasing an existing unit, the department will provide assistance in the form of a repayable loan for 20% of the purchase price of the unit. If building a house, a maximum of $40,000 will be provided for assistance in the form of a repayable loan. This contribution is not to exceed 50% of the total house costs.

Non-Profit and Co-op Housing : Existing non-profit groups and organizations assist low-income households in the provision of safe, affordable and accessible housing units. Households, who pay more than 30% of their income for adequate and suitable housing in the private market and those with special purpose housing needs, can make an application to their local non-profit group or organizations for housing consideration. Tenants are selected on the basis of demonstrated need.

Affordable Rental Housing Program : Assistance to private entrepreneurs, private non-profit corporations (includes off-reserve native population), and co-operatives for the construction, acquisition and rehabilitation, conversion and operation of rental housing projects. A development proposal is eligible if it meets the following requirements:

- Eligible projects must increase the supply of affordable rental units for low and moderate income households.
- Projects may be developed through new construction, the purchase of existing housing with or without subsequent rehabilitation and the conversion of existing buildings. Note – Private entrepreneurs are only eligible to develop new construction projects.
- Eligible tenants include families, seniors, non-elderly singles, disabled households, persons with special needs. Supportive housing programs may also be used to assist vulnerable seniors and adults to help them maintain or resume independent living in their own home.
- Assistance is in the form of a forgivable loan and is based on the cost of eligible work and the number of eligible self-contained units or be units within a project. The maximum forgivable contribution for projects sponsored by non-profit groups is $35,000 per unit and may include 100% of the units within a project. Private entrepreneurs are eligible for a maximum forgivable contribution of $25,000 per unit, limited to no more than 50% of the total units within a project. Private entrepreneurs are also required to at least match FCS's capital grant contribution in the form of an equity contribution (cash or land). Borrowers will enter into a Mortgage Agreement with FCS to ensure that units remain affordable to low and moderate income households.
- Interest free proposal development funding loans are provided to assist eligible non-profit & co-operative sponsors of projects to carry out the activities required to develop a project proposal to the point where a commitment of assistance can be made.

- Where situations warrant rental subsidies (Rent Supplements) may be provided to ensure units are affordable to low-income households. Tenants qualifying for assistance through the Rent Supplement Program will have their rents reduced to 30% of the adjusted household income. Landlords will receive the difference between the rent paid by the tenant and the market rent agreed to under a rental agreement.

Public Housing Program : To assist one and two parent families, non-elderly singles and senior citizens, who, because of low income, experience difficulty in obtaining adequate and affordable rental housing. Tenants for public housing rental units are chosen on demonstrated need.

Rent Supplement Program : To assist households in need to obtain affordable, adequate and suitable rental accommodation by subsidizing rents in the private rental sector. The program provides assistance to eligible tenants by reducing their rent to 30% of their adjusted household income. Landlords will receive the difference between the rent paid by the tenant and the market rent agreed to under a rental agreement.

Rental and Rooming House Rehabilitation Assistance Program : These two programs offer financial assistance to landlords/owners for mandatory repairs to :

- self-contained units that are substandard and rented to low-income households or
- to rooming houses with bed units that are affordable to low-income occupants

The assistance is in the form of a forgivable loan. The maximum amount for each self-contained unit is $24,000 and $16,000 for each bed unit. Owners must contribute 25% of the total cost of eligible repairs and enter into a rental agreement to ensure that rents remain affordable to low-income occupants.

Rural and Native Housing/Basic Shelter Program : To provide housing to eligible off-reserve native and non-native households who require affordable, adequate and suitable accommodations in rural communities with a population of less than 2,500 residents.

ADULTS WITH DISABILITIES AND SENIOR SERVICES BRANCH

ADULT DEVELOPMENT ACTIVITIES, PROGRAMS AND TRAINING (A.D.A.P.T.)

A.D.A.P.T. is a program that provides long-term care clients appropriate opportunities to learn skills in centre or community based settings. Through a supported environment, A.D.A.P.T. focuses on the development and provision of valued training and activities and encourages appropriate behaviour, respect of daily schedules, dress, social habits and all other expectations that are placed on an adult individual.

A.D.A.P.T. services are designed to meet the participant's needs on a full-time or part-time basis. Although A.D.A.P.T. services, for the most part, are developmental in nature and designed to meet the needs of the clients, as a result of this service, families and guardians of the client receive valuable hours of respite.

Individuals who have been assessed as eligible for long term care services and for whom it has been determined that this type of activity is appropriate can be referred to an A.D.A.P.T. program. The individual must be willing to participate in personal growth activities based on his or her interests and strengths.

LONG TERM CARE PROGRAM

Long term care services refer to a range of services required by adults and seniors who, because of long term functional limitations, need assistance to function as independently as possible. The objective is to provide appropriate long term care services at the appropriate time and in the appropriate place within the overall continuum of care.

Services range from in-home support services to services in residential settings, including adult residential facilities (special care homes and community residences) and nursing homes.

Home Support Services

Home support services are provided to eligible clients who require non-professional personal assistance with care needs or with essential light housekeeping tasks can be maintained at home. The types of services available include personal care, homemaker/housekeeper, meals on wheels, or relief care. Clients who require more services than can be provided in their homes may be eligible for services in a residential facility.

Residential Facilities

Residential Facilities are approved to provide specific levels of care. Generally, nursing homes provide services to clients, mostly seniors, who require a high level of care and professional nursing services on a regular basis; community residences provide residential services to adults who require a high level of care, but do not require professional nursing services on a regular basis; special care homes provide residential services to clients (adults and seniors) who do not require a high level of care and professional nursing care on a regular basis.

Nursing Home Services

Nursing homes, licensed by the Nursing Homes Services Branch of the Department of Family and Community Services, provide long term care for eligible individuals whose care needs are greater than the family and other informal or formal community care resources and residential facilities can provide. The Long Term Care Program is responsible for determining eligibility for nursing home placement.

CHILD WELFARE & YOUTH SERVICES BRANCH

Community-Based Services for Children with Special Needs:

The Community-Based Services for Children with Special Needs Program (CBSCSN) under the Department of Family and Community Services offers services to families who are unable to provide all the care and support required to meet the special developmental needs of their severely disabled child. CBSCSN is a voluntary program, so families must demonstrate that in addition to the other community services they are accessing, their child still has some unmet needs. This program is not insured, so families must be prepared to contribute financially, where possible, to the additional services offered.

To be eligible a child must have a severe disability, which is life-long in nature and affects their daily living. The child must be under 19 years of age, and both they and their family/guardians must be residents of New Brunswick with valid Medicare cards.

Once a child is admitted to the Community-Based Services for Children with Special Needs Program, an individual Service Plan is developed based on the child's strengths, needs, and the services availability. Depending on the child's special needs, identified in the Service Plan, services or items may be purchased to assist the family in providing the care and support the child requires. Some of these services or items covered are respite care, parent aides, medical and rehabilitation transportation, recreational opportunities and home support services.

Children whose families do not have private health insurance may be eligible for a health card that covers items such as prescription drugs, dental care, optical care, medical and rehabilitation equipment.

When families are no longer able to meet the care and supervision needs of their child, they may consider a temporary placement with the Department in a foster home or a group home situation.

For more information contact the regional offices of the Department of Family and Community Services.

Brain research points to a brief window of extraordinary learning opportunity in early childhood. Success at this stage can mean learning success throughout life. Programs and services include Early Intervention Services, Prenatal Benefit Program, Child Day Care Services, Day Care Assistance Program, Alternative Child Care Program, Services for Preschool Children with Autism, Quality Improvement Funding Support Program, Early Childhood Social Worker Services, Home Economics Services, Support Services to Education and Excellence in Parenting Programs, Nobody's Perfect Parenting Program.

- Integrated Daycare and Early Intervention Services through Early Childhood Initiative;
- Rehabilitative Services through the Hospitals and Extra-Mural Programs; and
- Family support services through Community Based Services for Children with Special Needs.

INTERPRETER SERVICES FOR THE DEAF :

In order to increase accessibility to providing critical interpreter services, the Department of Family and Community Services provides these services in a limited number of defined settings when services are not available through other departments or the natural support system is unavailable or inadequate.

Interpreter services are short term and limited to medical appointments, counselling, court preparation and proceedings, and some specific situation related to employment, social services and education outside the school system (parent teacher interview).

The service can be accessed through the Access and Assessment Services of the regional office of Family and Community Services (a list of the regions and telephone numbers to follow). If the request is approved, the service will be coordinated through one of the two following agencies : South-East Deaf and Hard of Hearing Services Inc. (see listing on page 168) and Saint John Deaf and Hard of Hearing Services Inc. (see listing on page 159).

PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICES

Website : www.gnb.ca/0053

Childhood Immunization Program (Children 1-16 years of age) - This program provides protection against many childhood, vaccine-preventable diseases. Routine immunizations are offered to children by Public Health Nurses in Pediatric Immunization Clinics and to 16 year olds at school, and via physicians through their office. The Victorian Order of Nurses provide hepatitis B immunization to all Grade four students in the school setting.

Dental Health Activities - These activities focus primarily on reducing the incidence of dental disease and improving the level of oral hygiene among elementary school children. A principal component is a weekly fluoride mouth rinse program for all children in grades 1-6.

Early Childhood Initiatives - This program is designed to help parents give their children the best start in life, to grow strong and healthy in a healthy family. The Public Health components of the program include :

Prenatal - Services include prenatal screening to identify those pregnant women most in need, education and counselling to address specific needs, and nutrition supplementation, as necessary.

Postnatal - Services to children 0 to 5 years of age include screening of all newborns and their families to identify those infants who are most at-risk of developmental delay, education and counselling to address specific needs and nutrition supplementation.

3.5 Year Old Health Clinic - All 3.5 year old children and their families are invited to attend a 3.5 Year Old Health Clinic. Services include a comprehensive health assessment of a child's vision, hearing, speech/language, general physical growth and development, safety, nutrition, immunization status, and behaviour. In collaboration with the family, referrals to various health providers are made based on the results of these assessments.

International Travellers' Clinics - Education, counselling and immunizations are provided to international travellers by nurses of the VON. There is a fee for the immunizations provided at these clinics. Please call for an appointment well in advance of your planned departure date.

Nutrition Services - Nutrition information is available through the public health office.

School Health - Limited health consultation referrals and counselling are offered by public health nurses who visit schools on a periodic basis.

Sexual Health Centres - The Sexual Health Program was established to help prevent unplanned pregnancies among adolescents and young, single adults. Under the program, the Public Health offers education, counselling and clinical services in birth control, sexually transmitted diseases and human sexuality.

TESS - TRAINING AND EMPLOYMENT SUPPORT SERVICES FOR PERSONS WITH DISABILITIES

The Training and Employment Support Services (TESS) for Persons with Disabilities program offers training and employment services that enable persons with disabilities to achieve their occupational goal or obtain employment.

The purpose of TESS is to decrease the barriers faced by persons with disabilities so that they may be as competitive as the non-disabled population in their search for employment.

Although everybody's needs are different, some of the services a TESS client may be eligible for include counselling to help decide on a career plan, adaptive equipment required to pursue a career goal, and assistance with special educational or training costs.

For more information, contact a TESS coordinator at one of the following locations :

CANADA PENSION PLAN - DISABILITY BENEFITS

The Canada Pension Plan (CPP) disability benefit is a monthly payment. It is available to people who contributed recently to the Canada Pension Plan while they worked, and then became unable to work at any job on a regular basis because of a disability. The primary purpose is to replace a portion of employment earnings for people who recently paid into the CPP. There are also benefits for children if at least one parent qualifies for the CPP disability benefit.

A CPP disability benefit is not approved on the basis of which disability or disease you have, but on how the medical condition and its treatment affect your ability to work at any job on a regular basis.

Applicants who have a terminal illness will have their disability applications decided on within 48 hours upon receipt of their application. Social Development Canada (SDC) staff give these applications priority to determine eligibility quickly so that benefit payments can start as soon as possible.

Can I work while receiving benefits? Yes, you can earn up to $4,000 (before taxes) in 2004 without informing SDC staff and without losing your benefit. This amount may increase in future years.

Once you earn $4,000 from work, you should contact SDC staff about your current work situation and your future work goals. If you can only work once in a while, you may be able to earn more than $4,000 while still receiving your CPP disability benefit payment. It is important to contact us so we can look at your individual situation.

If you believe you are able to work on a regular basis, SDC staff may be able to help you achieve your goals through the CPP vocational rehabilitation program. As new technology, medical treatments and skills training are making it possible for some people with disabilities to re-enter the work force, this program is designed to help you return to work.

At this time you can't access or fill out a CPP disability application kit online. Please contact us at the number below and we will send you the kit to fill out. You must apply for a disability benefit in writing. If you prefer, someone else (a family member or friend) can complete the kit for you (but please make sure that you sign the application form for your benefit).

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind is a national, voluntary agency providing specialized rehabilitation and support services to individuals to whom loss of vision is a central problem in personal and social adjustment. The CNIB also acts as a consultant and resource agency to the helping professions, government departments and private industry. The basic aim of the CNIB is to help blind and visually impaired people find ways to lead satisfying lives. The CNIB is committed to helping anyone with a vision problem that cannot be corrected using ordinary lenses and that significantly affects the person's ability to function normally.

CNIB's specific objectives are to improve the condition of the blind of Canada, to prevent blindness and to promote sight enhancement services. To carry out these objectives, CNIB offers specific core services which address the special needs of blind and visually impaired persons. These include counselling with respect to vision loss and referral to appropriate services, instruction in daily living skills and communication techniques such as Braille, white cane instruction, low vision assessments and training, technical aids assessment and training, vocational and employment counselling and placement, talking and Braille books and magazine library services, and specialized children's services including a toy and resource lending library. CNIB also sponsors the Wise Owl industrial eye safety program. In addition, a wide range of pamphlets and other resource materials are available to the community.

Four regional centres located in Bathurst, Fredericton, Moncton and Saint John are now fully equipped to produce Braille in either English or French for the benefit of all Braille users. For a nominal fee, they will also do Braille transcription for individuals or groups when time and resources will permit.

CNIB has trained staff and volunteers available to do presentations and workshops. These workshops can range from general information about CNIB or blindness and visual impairment, to in-service presentations dealing with specific rehabilitation issues. They also have trained volunteers to do eye safety presentations for industry, recreation and education facilities.

The New Brunswick Easter Seal March of Dimes is committed to assisting children and adults with physical disabilities to achieve maximum rehabilitation. This is achieved by offering direction to existing services or by using their own resources to provide help that is otherwise unavailable. Clients can access rehabilitation equipment loans for long-term use or assessment.

They also have a Loan Bank of Assessment Equipment from which equipment is loaned out for a 3-week period for assessment purposes only, upon referral of a health professional. Once the assessment is complete, arrangements can be made for either a long-term loan through one of their other programs or for the purchase of the equipment through an appropriate seller.

They have an extensive library of information on various disabilities, rehabilitation equipment, services, etc., which is open to the public from 8:00 am - 5:00 pm, Monday - Friday. Speakers and films are also available on request.

The Polio Survivor's Program offers current information concerning the late effects of polio and maintains a registry of polio survivors.

The Repair Service conducts various types of equipment repair at their office or by accessing specialists in the field.

Their Rehabilitation Technology Program offers information and consultation about rehabilitation technology to health professionals and persons with disabilities. The program loans specialized electronic aids for assessment or for long-term use. SlideTalk, a computer software program, was developed by this agency to enable children with severe disabilities to communicate. Also, a French and English Disability Awareness Training CD-ROM was designed to increase awareness of needs of persons with disabilities.

The Toy Library provides short term loans of adapted toys for children with disabilities.

They are an Affilitate Partner of the Canadian Health Network (CHN), a national Internet-based resource that provides easy access to up-to-date, trustworthy health information. It assists with the collection of web resources specifically for people with disabilities and with the development and support of a network of organizations who work in that field.

Staff is available for presentations and exposés.

Camp Rotary runs continuous integrated sessions from mid-June until the end of August. Seventy-six campers can be accommodated per session. The Association has several programs that have and will make a difference to all New Brunswickers and hopefully all Canadians. Our asthma camp for Anglophone and Francophone children, ages 7-11, have provided valuable data and information which has made a noticeable positive impact on the participating children and families.

Children who attend the camps are taught skills that will assist them to better manage and control their asthma. Most importantly, it allows the children an opportunity to have fun, and establish healthy relationships with their peers and health professionals.

The Association offers public education on an ongoing basis. The public is encouraged to call the Association and receive on-line education and free resource tools as a means to increase their understanding and knowledge about proper care and management of their or their child's asthma. The Association delivers asthma education to schools for both administration and students, seminars on respiratory diseases, and conferences for health professionals. SELF-HELP STROKE CLUBS

Self-help clubs are small groups formed by peers voluntarily offering mutual aid to persons with common needs and similar life situations. The groups are made of people who have lived through the experience of having a stroke. Any person who has experienced hemiplegia due to a stroke or brain injury, and also family members, can profit from contact with other families who have had a member recover from a stroke.

Monthly meetings are held on the third Tuesday of every month from September to May at the Loch Lomond Villa to provide encouragement and support. The meetings consist of a social gathering where people learn new skills on how to handle their disability. An annual get-together is held in June at the Manchester Avenue location.

Dear Friend,

The Premier's Council on the Status of Disabled Persons is pleased to provide you with the Directory of Services Offered to Persons with Disabilities in New Brunswick. This directory is also available in French and in alternate formats and can be accessed on our website at www.gnb.ca/0048.

We have made every effort to ensure that the listings are correct and cover as many resources as possible. Please advise our office if you discover any errors or omissions.

We have attempted to reduce printing and shipping costs by not providing covers with the directory. However, the pages are hole-punched to fit any standard size three-ring binder or duo-tang.

We hope this directory will be of use to you and you will share the material with others.

Yours truly,

Kristin Colwell
